

Escalation Studios Joins Gaming Tribe

Dallas, Texas — Thursday, September 10, 2015 — Mass Luminosity announced that Escalation Studios, world-class independent game developer committed to building experiences that push the boundaries of interactive entertainment, has joined the Gaming Tribe community and launched a corporate page at www.gamingtribe.com/page/Escalation.

“Escalation Studios is excited to join the Gaming Tribe global community,” said Tom Mustaine, CEO of Escalation Studios. “We have been watching the growth and development of Gaming Tribe since it launched last year, and are very impressed with both the technology created for the network and the nature of the community. We believe there’s strong affinity between the spirit of Gaming Tribe and the kind of games we’re passionate about building at Escalation.

“We are thrilled to welcome Escalation Studios to Gaming Tribe,” said Angel Munoz, CEO of Mass Luminosity. “Beyond just a simple presence on Gaming Tribe, they are planning some unique experiences for the members of our community that will be unparalleled in the industry. We look forward to many years of cooperation and interaction.”
