BEAM Media Corp Announces Seed Round Led by 1414 Ventures

Dallas, TX — Friday, November 21, 2025 — BEAM Media Corp, the next-generation livestreaming and multistreaming technology company, today announced that 1414 Ventures, a Boston-based venture capital firm specializing in transformational technologies, will lead the company's upcoming Seed Round.

1414 Ventures participation highlights BEAM's rapid global expansion, technical breakthroughs, and accelerating adoption since its public launch in April 2024. The platform has already surpassed 200,000+ user accounts across 170+ countries, positioning BEAM among the fastest-growing livestreaming platforms in the world.

"BEAM is gaining momentum because we stay focused on solving real problems creators face every day," said Angel Munoz, Co-founder and CEO of BEAM Media Corp. "We built BEAM to be open, frictionless, and creator-centric—from multistreaming to 90 destinations to our real-time unified chat technology. With 1414 Ventures leading our Seed Round, we gain a partner who understands the scale of the opportunity and shares our belief that livestreaming is entering a new era defined by global reach, innovation, and empowerment."

"We back founders and technologies that reshape industries," said Howard Hall, Managing Partner at 1414 Ventures. "BEAM's fast adoption, powerful technology, and disciplined execution make it a standout company in the livestreaming sector. We're excited to support the BEAM team as they continue to expand globally."
